Program Description

In June 2001, the New York City Department of Education and Bard College jointly created the Bard High School Early College (BHSEC). This unique school is founded on the belief that many young people are ready and eager to do serious college work at age 16. It enables highly motivated students to move in four years from the ninth grade through the first two years of college, earning the associate of arts (A.A.) degree. Students from many different backgrounds who have a strong record of excellence and diverse interests will benefit from BHSEC seminar classes that emphasize both discussion and writing as tools for gaining understanding. Using primary source materials and experimental data for research, students will become equipped with the analytical skills needed to pursue their intellectual and artistic passions.
