Happy Monday, BHSEC Bronx! May has officially arrived, which means one more month till summer vacation and a lot to look forward to. This week, we're celebrating traditions like Mother's Day, while also diving into the latest news from the NBA Playoffs and the Met Gala. It's all happening at BHSEC, let's see what's on the horizon this week!

What's Happening This Week?

Too Many Trips? This week, BHSEC Bronx has more than three trips! Crazy to think about. Many teachers are worried that students are going to miss class time due to all the trips happening this week. Let's take a look at what's going on:

- Tuesday: 10th graders get the chance to go on a trip to Wakefield Hospital for a live-action medical care experience, where students act out different injuries and doctors/students perform real-life procedures to treat them! This is a great opportunity to see how emergency injuries are handled.
- Wednesday: Not one but two trips today! First, the Spanish classes are heading to Union Square to bargain with market vendors and practice their Spanish—Buena Suerte! Second, students with perfect attendance get to see the Aladdin musical on Broadway. Come to school on time for chances like this!
- Thursday: Chemistry students get to go to the Queens Environmental Center for a hands-on science experience.
- Friday: Enjoy hiking? Many students will be heading out on a trip to Bear Mountain.

This week is looking fun with so much to do for BHSEC Bronx students. Have fun, everyone!

The New EarlyBard Issue: Our 5th issue of the year is on the way! Be sure to check it out at the end of this week on our website for exciting articles, fresh updates, and all things BHSEC Bronx.

Townhall Piano Recital & Art Showcase(2:45-3:30): This townhall, we have a big event coming up! It's special showcase featuring art created by students in art class. It'll be on display for everyone to see. On top of that, music students will be performing different piano pieces throughout the townhall.

Met Gala 2025: Tailored Fits & BIG Fashion Energy

This year's theme, "Superfine: Tailoring Black Style," brought elegance, edge, and a whole lot of style to the carpet. DoeChii served hip-hop dandy perfection in Louis Vuitton, while Zendaya rocked an all-white suit with a hat so big it could fit Tom Holland in it. On the guys' side, Lewis Hamilton stunned in a cowrie-detailed tux by Wales Bonner, Colman Domingo gave cape royalty in Valentino, and Burna Boy lit things up in a bold Ozwald Boateng fit, proving men's fashion is anything but boring.

Tips to End the School Year Strong

A dummies guide to finishing the school year off school:

1. Plan the Final Stretch– Make a checklist of what's left. When you see it all laid out, it's less scary and harder to "accidentally forget" that one major project or final.
2. Set Fake Deadlines– Trick yourself with due dates that are a day early. Future-you will be grateful, and trust me it works.
3. Skim Smart, Not Hard– Focus on key terms and what your teacher kept repeating. If they said it three times, it's probably on the test.
4. Ask Questions– Even the "dumb" ones. Teachers like students who care (this also doubles as an easy way to get your participation points in)
5. Sleep > Cramming– A rested brain beats an exhausted one trying to study for a chem test last minute.

You got this, just keep moving, stay locked in, and keep your eyes on summer!
